

National Merit Scholars are the elite category of all scholars' categories and represent the 99th percentile of SAT performance. This group is the hardest to recruit and typically receives benefits such as free study abroad, laptops, and stipends above educational costs from other universities. We anticipate extraordinary growth of these outstanding students with over 100 applications to date.